"Coast-to-Coast" To Be Presented At Hamlin High School Monday and Tuesday Nights

A LIONS CLUB SPONSORED PRODUCTION
Directed By Miss Wilma Fellers

Miss Wilma Fellers, director of "Coast to Coast," which is to be sponsored by the Hamlin Lion Club, arrived in town last Thursday. She reports excellent co-operation from Hamlin citizens and great deal of interest in the show.

Miss Fellers, along with the casting committee, which includes D. Campbell, Gerald Morgan, Arlie Cassle, H. W. Carter and Dorothy Albritton, have succeeded in securing the best talent in Hamlin for this production.

We wouldn't know, but it seems that most of Hamlin's popular teachers have gone Hollywood.

Doris Pope has forsaken the teaching profession to become "Jean Bosworth," the charming proprietor of the Bosworth Music Store in "Coast to Coast."

Pat Albritton (you would never think it) has gone high-brow as the singing teacher in the play. You'll enjoy her method of teaching her best pupils to breathe correctly.

Ruby Thompson will keep the audience roaring as "Lizzie Lullerlittie," the country girl who gets her first pair of shoes in "Coast to Coast."

J. R. Jackson of the high school faculty is "Don Palmer" leading man and "Madam Hyantias" best pupil.

Marcelle Jones and Arlie Cassle will entertain their fond public with their interpretation of "Trixie" and "Pete."

Gerald Morgan and Tom Cox as "Jack Skinner" and "Louie Dicker" promoters of the amateur contest, handle their part in a manner that will please the audience.

You'll dislike "Titus Pennyback," the villain of the show, in the person of Oscar Owens, and you'll scream with laughter at the antics of Aris Jones as "Percival Snell" Titus' nephew and pride of his heart.

Farrow Burns has forsaken his position at the Strauss Dry Goods Co. for the fine job as porter in the Bosworth Music store. And is he sunburned or perhaps it's just a dark shadow. Anyway, his usual ruddy complexion has darkened considerably and he speaks with a definite drawl — "Ah comes from de Soufland" or at least, that's the way it sounds.

Surprise, Surprise. One of Hamlin's most prominent citizens has decided to become a radio announcer and is the Colonel Rowes" of the Lion's Club play. Who? H. W. Hanks, pastor of the Methodist Church and you'll like his interpretation.

The cast is working every night in an endeavor to give Hamlin the best production ever staged here.

In addition to this excellent cast, "Coast to Coast" offers many featured choruses and specialty numbers.

One of the outstanding groups and the one featured above all others, is the Farmette Chorus. These girls, according to reports, have been imported from the surrounding farms to entertain with a dance that is rustic and at the same time full of pep.

"Sing, It's Good For You," says the opening chorus and they really mean it with their attractive costumes and peppy songs.

"It's No Fun," "A Thousand Dollars for You," "Swing Mr. Palmer," and "Imagination," are other choruses in the show and they add to the entertainment with their snappy costumes and artful dances.

The costumes are new, the songs are new, in fact, the whole play is new, modern, amusing, and genuinely entertaining.

The ticket committee, made up of Craig Elmore, H. W. Carter, and members of the Lions Club report that tickets are going nicely. Reserve tickets may be obtained for no extra cost at the Reynolds Drug Store after Friday noon. Get your ticket early for the Lions Club production, "Coast to Coast."

Miss Wilma Fellers, director of "Coast to Coast" the home talent play, being sponsored by the Lions Club, comes to Hamlin highly recommended. She has an A. B. de-

Look closely—It pays.

For several days the Herald man has observed a peculiar smile on the face of A. P. Patterson, manager of the Farmers Gin, but we did not learn till this Wednesday that "there's a reason"—it is a pretty little "granddaughter. Let's say "granddad" to him now. Facts are that a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. LaFoy Patterson on Oct. 31, in the Abilene hospital, and her name is "Margot Faye." Congratulations to all even though we are late in hearing.

C. D. Yarborough, manager of the Model Laundry, has been in the Legion Hospital at Kerrville, Texas, for two weeks taking treatment. Reports are that he is feeling better. Perhaps it will be several months before he can return home.

Mrs. Yarborough is operating the laundry in the absence of her sick husband and making a good job of it.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Griffin, of Okemah, Oklahoma, returned to their home Sunday after spending a week here with Mr. Griffin's mother, Mrs. A. G. Griffin and Mrs. Griffin's father, E. Beard, and a lot of other relatives and friends.

Speaking of her work in Hamlin, to your editor, Miss Fellers says, "I've never gotten such whole hearted cooperation or such genuine enthusiasm as I have in Hamlin. We have an excellent cast, good choruses, a beautiful auditorium in which to work, and I fully anticipate having the best show I've ever staged, and I know Hamlin people will appreciate "COAST-TO-COAST."

FOR FARMERS

"All farmers who are qualifying under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program, and whose farm or farm's have not been measured are urged to complete the measuring and mapping of the farm or farms as soon as possible. When you have completed the measuring and mapping notify the County Agents office you are ready for the supervisors to call for your map.

Very truly yours,

WISE CHAPEL GIRLS

BASKETBALL NEWS

The Wise Chapel girls have organized their basketball teams. They elected Marjorie Biddle as captain of the Junior team, and Adelaide Jenkins as co-captain. Lena Pearl Walraven was elected captain of the Senior team and Ruth Ellison co-captain.

The Senior team played Avoca Wednesday night, November 4, and was defeated, the score being 15 and 14. This was the Wise Chapel girls' first game this year.

The outsiders met Wednesday afternoon and played the Senior team. The school girls won 40-21.

LITTLE LIGHTS ON LIVING

THE ANGEL OF MICHELANGELO

RETURNING home one sundown from his work on the Vatican in Rome, Michelangelo saw a discarded piece of marble lying on the roadside. He called two workmen to help him lift and carry it to his home. He overheard them say to each other as they left, pocketing the coins he gave them: "That old stone isn't worth a lira, what can he want with it?"

The stone lay untouched days in the artist's studio. One night when weary, his head resting on his hand, he sat dreaming until a wee late hour. A small angel, pure and white, came to him, bending with outstretched sympathetic hands, as if to relieve his fatigue. He reached out to touch her, she was gone, a fleeting visitor. He arose, went to his sculptor's table upon which the discarded stone lay, and worked the night through. As the dawn streaked the sky, with light that early morn, another angel came to earth, small, pure and white, bending with outstretched sympathetic hands as if to relieve the fatigue of the world. This visitor was not a fleeting one, for it had come to stay, chiseled by the master touch of Michelangelo from the discarded piece of roadside marble. It can be seen today in one of the great galleries of Europe.

There is a potential angel in every life. Even in those lives that have been discarded by human society, like the piece of marble Michelangelo found on the roadside. It takes the master touch to bring it forth. How often a life is reformed by the remembrance of a mother, or perhaps a father's word awakens the soul of a wandering boy.

The great lesson in this story is for parents—they are the sculptors of human life. It is for them to chisel the angel of character in their child in the tender growing up years and see that it grows as he grows—a strong, dominating force. I cannot help but feel if all our criminals had had the master touch in their lives in their childhood, where sin is not, their paths would be greatly divergent from where they now are.

Were I an unbeliever, thank God I am not, I believe the most serious obstacle to my unbelief would be the redeeming power of God in man's life. He never fails in his achievement of chiseling the angel out of a discarded life if we but permit him, no matter how long it has lain discarded by the roadside.

Hamlin to Entertain Next Home Economics District Meet

Hamlin was well represented at the District Meeting of Home Making students held at Aspermont Saturday, November 14. There were 12 schools represented.

Upon arriving there all registered and received a welcome card. If you preferred to eat at the school, meal tickets could be secured. With these meal tickets we received a show ticket for the matinee in the afternoon, "Little Women."

A most enjoyable program was given in the morning until 12:10 when we lined up to receive our plate lunches. After lunch we were allowed to visit with one another and to see all part of the building too. At 2 o'clock we all went to the show. A tea was given and the Aspermont club members were hostesses. We all enjoyed the welcome Miss Etta Roebuck gave at the beginning of the morning program.

The business meeting after the tea proved to be in Hamlin's favor.

Four schools gave a bid for the next District Club meeting in March and since an unusual number gave a bid the votes had to be taken in which Hamlin won by a majority.

CHRISTMAS CANDY

DEMONSTRATION

Miss Joellene Vannoy, Fisher County's New Home Demonstration gave a demonstration of Home-made Christmas Candies at Mrs. E. G. Youngs, Tuesday afternoon. Miss Vannoy says Home-made candies are best for the kiddies because they are pure.

Two kinds of candy were made and recipes for others given to members.

Miss Hip, Agent for Fisher County girls, was a visitor.

Refreshments were served to six members and the two guests.

UNCLE BILL MEDFORD DIED WED. P. M.

W. C. (Uncle Bill) Medford, one of the real pioneer citizens of Hamlin died at 4:40 P. M. Wednesday of this week.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at the Methodist Church.

Interment will be in East Cemetery, Hamlin, under the direction of the Barrow Company.

The Herald will give an extended sketch of the life of Mr. Medford in next weeks issue. Time this week does not permit of as much information as we desire. One thing here, though, we can say that a long and interesting life of a good citizen has come to a close.

With morning . . . came the repair crews

An early snow, drifting down from leaden December skies, froze to telephone poles and lines. Hard on its heels came the wind. Ice-laden wires snapped and poles splintered before the blast.

Night found scores of towns throughout the storm region handicapped by crippled telephone service.

But, with the morning, came the repair crews. Hastily gathered from regions untouched by storm, they poured into the stricken area with trucks, tools and materials. Day and night they rushed the work of reconstruction.

One advantage of the Bell System's far-flung organization is this: When disaster flattens the telephone system, men and money and materials are instantly available for the prompt repair of the damage.

STUFFED HAMBURG ROLLS WITH TOMATO SAUCE

2 pounds Hamburg steak
2 cups soft breadcrumbs
2 tablespoons chopped onion
¼ cup melted butter or drippings
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning or sage
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons hot water

Divide steak into 12 balls and flatten out about 4 inches square and ¼ inch thick.

Add onion, melted butter and seasonings to breadcrumbs; moisten with hot water and mix well. Form into 12 small rolls 4 inches long. Place one roll on each meat cake and roll meat around stuffing. Press together slightly. Place in greased baking dish and bake in moderately hot oven, 400° F., about 30 minutes, or until brown. Serve with Tomato Sauce. Serves 6.

Two of The Three Surviving Widows of the Texas Revolution

MRS. MARY BERRY

MRS. MARY LONGLEY

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 15.—Two of the three living widows of the Texas Revolution were honor guests of the Texas Centennial Exposition on Sunday, Nov. 15.

They were Mrs. Mary Catherine Berry, 83, who lives near Baird, Callahan County, and Mrs. Mary Longley, 74, of Abilene, Taylor County.

The third, Mrs. Mary M. Price, 93, lives in Rochester, N. Y. She an invalid was unable to make the trip to Texas.

Mrs. Berry, a native of Arkansas, is the widow of Capt. Andrew Jackson Berry, a veteran of San Jacinto, who died many years ago. Mrs. Longley is the widow of Campbell Longley, a native of Tennessee, who joined Gen. Sam Houston the day after the battle of San Jacinto.

In their honor Centennial executives planned numerous events. At the historic Cavalcade of Texas the re-enactment of the stirring events of the world's sixteenth decisive battle, in which their husbands fought. They saw again Sam Houston, marching across the stage of time, his inauguration, the epoch of the Republic, the strides of Texas as a State.

Abilene civic organizations and Max Bentley, managing editor of the Abilene Reporter-News, sponsored the preliminaries of the visit of the historic characters. A large delegation arrived with them from that section of the state, and joined by many thousands of other Texans, paid hom- or to the survivors of those who made the independence of Texas possible.

The true coward has cold feet. One way not to have peace of mind is to give others a piece of it.

Oil-Plated Engine

OFFICIAL COUNT of last year's emergencies handled by the American Automobile Association shows: "3,200,000 motorists caught with depleted batteries . . . and 2,000,000 had starter difficulties." Don't let it be you this Winter. Have your electrical system checked, of course. Buy good gasoline. And give your engine the big extra surety of modern Oil-Plating.

Oil-Plating with Conoco Germ Processed oil—patented—leaves a definite Plating of oil on every engine part continuously . . . Continuously!

Then Oil-Plating is always there to head off wear, not only while you drive, but between times, too. Through hours of cold at the curb or at night—when other oils drain down—your engine remains completely Oil-Plated. For the patented Germ Process actually enables this oil to unite with bearings, pistons, cylinders and other parts, to Oil-Plate them for smooth, slipper, dragless starts. Since there cannot be a moment of "missing oil," the greatest cause of Winter wear is out, as you change to Conoco Germ Processed oil and its exclusive Oil-Plating. Continental Oil Company

SENIORS

(News Too Late For Last Week)

We played the Sophomore Class two very close basketball games last Monday night.

The Sophomore girls took defeat very nicely.

The girls playing for the Seniors are as follows, Erma Locke, Lorene Sipe and Margaret Wallace played guard. Mary Lee Winslett, Bertha Young and Neelie May Scott played forward. Miss LaRue called the game fair and square to everyone's satisfaction.

The Sophomore boys have the honor of beating the Senior boys one point. The scores were 30 to 29. Eight minutes of extra play was required for this. Senior boys playing are as follows, L. C. Bonds and Ted Longino, guards; Leonard Foster, center; Lester Morton and Emile Ray Farmer, forwards.

We wish to congratulate the Sophomore class for their splendid team.

The Senior class entertained the High School at Chapel last Tuesday. It was rather nicely carried out with the help of a very fine "bugler" from the Junior class, who happened to be M. Y. Wilson. A song was sung by Lester Morton, accompanied at the piano by John F. Green Jr. A black-face dialogue was given by L. C. Bonds and Lovell Stell.

After all this an Armistice program was given. Juanita Flenniken, Lila Bell Moore, Virginia Collins, Dorothy Morgan, Inez Howard, Mary Lou Bailey and Lorene Sipe did some very good singing of some old but popular and patriotic songs. They were accompanied at the piano by Beulah Lou Burns.

Erma Locke filled a very important position also. She held little posters to tell what spirit each song was to be sung in.

Some of the Seniors met at the school building last Tuesday night about 6:30 for a grand picnic. They left around 7:00 for the Hamlin lake and picked as the glorious spot the foot bridge. (Not on the foot bridge but near it). Those who attended are as follows: Neelie Mae Scott, Mary Lee Winslett, Lataine Preston, Marvin Davison, Ted Longino, Leonard Foster, D. W. Carlton, Juanita Flenniken, Fleda Elkins, John F. Green Jr., J. T. Sipe, Sam Adkins, J. B. Terrell, Lila Bell Moore, Inez Howard, Dorothy Morgan, Bertha Young, Lester Moton, Ray Humphreys, L. C. Bonds and Margaret Wallace. They played games and then had a weiner roast. To top the feast off they had fruit and cakes. Everyone went home about 9:30 after having a "scrumptious" time.

WEEK OF NOVEMBER 15

1827—The third of Austin's contracts, dated Nov. 20, permitted him to establish within six years 100 families on the north side of the Colorado River above the old San Antonio road.

1835—The Provisional Government Council enacted legislation on Nov. 19 to purchase food, clothing, and other supplies for the army.

1835—On Nov. 21 the first troops from the United States to join the Texas revolutionary forces arrived near San Antonio.

1836—An act was passed by the First Congress of the Texas Republic on Nov. 16 to enable president Houston to appoint a minister to the United States. He appointed William H. Wharton.

1864—On Nov. 15 an act was passed making it a penal offense for any officer to prevent a prisoner from consulting a lawyer. This indicated the extremity to which arbitrary military power had been stretched.

MRS. PRATER ENTERTAINED

CLUB THURSDAY

Mrs. C. C. Prater entertained the Twentieth Century Bridge Club in her home on Central Avenue, Thursday afternoon of the past week.

The entertaining rooms were lavishly decorated with yellow and orchid chrysanthemums and a Thanksgiving motif was featured in game accessories.

Three tables of contract were in play with Mrs. Q. Martin scoring high for club members and Mrs. John T. Day holding the high score for guests.

The Thanksgiving motif was repeated in the delicious refreshment plate holding turkey, dressing, cran-

WHAT DOES THE WORLD OWE THIS WOMAN?

She feels that her rich friends could perfectly well help her mother and herself if only they would.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

"MEN are afraid to get married nowadays," a middle-aged doctor said at a dinner party recently. "Women are so darned independent, and they can do so much on their own that there isn't much a man can offer them."

"It used to be," he went on resentfully, "that a girl wanted to get married to be independent. Marriage meant freedom, it meant that she was more important than her sisters, who sat around waiting for beaux to show up. She had her name and her new house and a lot of new clothes, and she was just in Heaven."

"But today they have their new homes without bothering to get married. When a girl feels like it she says to the old folks that she wants to live by herself, and off she goes. Thousands of young women have broken away from the home nest, just as the boys used to do, and they're making their own money, too, just like the boys. They can stay out nights, entertain their friends, go to what shows or what parties they like, and they think things over pretty seriously before they decide to settle down with just one man, and confine their amusements to what amuses him, and their expenditures to what he can afford."

"I'm looking," he concluded mournfully, "for one of those shy little retiring women who raise big grateful blue eyes to the man who's going to rescue them from parental tyranny, and who want to run for slippers and babble about the baby and adore the man of the family for the next fifty years!"

"Beth in 'Little Women,'" someone suggested.

"Exactly!" the first speaker said emphatically. "Why don't women get onto the fact that men like 'em loving and quiet and cuddly!"

Nobody was cruel enough to answer him as he should have been answered, but perhaps a good many of us were thinking the same thing. Perhaps we were all longing to remind him that twenty years ago, when he was twenty-five, no girl could be giddy or extravagant or artificial or shallow enough for him. He followed every will-of-the-wisp in petticoats that came his way, and finally settled his affections upon a certain pretty saucy little married woman who hadn't sense enough to control her own random affections, much less rebuff his.

The affair of the handsome doctor and the little married woman entertained their less charitable friends for several years; it was just one of those pleasant intimacies between a handsome man and an idle woman in which everyone knows that there is not the least HARM, but which manages to make a good husband feel cheap and cheated, and which takes Mother away from a small boy in the late afternoons, at tea time. When the husband finally got up his courage to ask for a divorce and took the little boy away with him, the pretty little wife was less pretty and less pert, and the big doctor drifted instantly and quietly out of the picture in the way the beaux of married women always seem to know instinctively.

Now, a few years after all this, the doctor could perfectly well marry his one-time sweetheart, she's still free, but instead he rails at the independence of the modern girl and longs for a cuddlesome little wife like Beth March!

The truth is that young men don't want domestic, honest, affectionate wives, or they'd find them. Up to the age of thirty-five some men won't look at a sensible woman, they are all for the girls who drink and jazz and pet, who obtain money somehow, by hook or crook, from Dad or a brother or in any other possible way, who waste it all on red finger nails and matinee seats, who "work" a man for champagne and orchids and then triumphantly tell the other girls how easy he is. The more completely imbecile a girl is the better she succeeds in the circles of night clubs and cocktail parties; indeed a good many girls assume a baby lisp and an idiot stare for those occasions. Waiting to hear Lucienne le Boyer I was sitting near one of these long-lashed, over-rouged, half-nude little beauties one night, and overhearing—she didn't mind!—what she said. She said "yare," "says yew" and "oh, lissen," approximately a thousand times, and very little else. She varied the accent and intonation on the words cleverly, as jungle savages do their "huhh," and she was a great social success, with young men stumbling, tumbling and tottering about her all evening long.

Right in the same Biggest City there were a lot of other girls tucked up and sound asleep at that hour, but with young blood in their veins, young desire, young longing to be popular and do things and go places. There were girls who know that somewhere in the world are men who like honest planning and talking, like books and plays and gardens and politics and history and social questions along with the love-making, girls ready to become splendid wives, and the mothers of fine little girls and boys. These girls have their opinions too, like the doctor with whose embittered remarks I started this article.

"It seems a shame," one of them wrote to me a few weeks ago, "that when you feel the way I feel you can't admit it. I live at home because I love my home and my own people, but a widowed sister with three babies also lives there, and two brothers still in school, and seven other persons as well. My mother is dead, and my father loves us to be home playing cards with him, or reading, or talking, and consequently I don't have much of a chance to meet men socially. For the rest, I'm a kindergarten teacher—and that means a lot more work than it used to mean. The children begin to gather at half-past eight, and I have to be there, and what with organized games and rehearsals and late calls from mothers, and reports and putting up exhibitions, and distributing prizes, I'm rarely home until after five, and tired then."

"I'd just like some lonely man to know that I'm on the market," she ended. "Nobody has to ask me to marry him unless he wants to. But friendship and companionship are among the beautiful things in the world, and I'm twenty-eight, and I don't want all the miracles to pass me by."

This girl lives in a Missouri city. In that same city, on the quiet evening when she wrote this letter, night clubs were going full blast, and men without much money to spend were ordering quarts of champagne, and were leaning over girls who were scented with drink and tobacco, whose shoulders and backs were completely bare, and whose conversation was confined to the aforesaid yare, lissen, and says yew. Some of these men would much rather have been walking along some fresh quiet star-lighted street under trees, with an intelligent woman companion, discussing the question of a movie or a theatre, or a little supper somewhere after the walk. Most men even when young, like reality rather than sham; they like to get SOME value for the money they spend.

But we all do things we don't really want to do, in this queer world. We all see the persons who bore us, and miss the ones we really love; we all go to parties we despise rather than having the courage to say "no;" we all waste money on the letter, and let the spirit of living escape through our clumsy hands. Men follow the line of the least resistance; if a jumble of genial voices suggests all going to the "Rough House," it seems a good thing to do at the moment, and off the whole swarm goes. That the cover charge at the Rough House is $5, that the air is thick with unwholesome smells of perspiration and dust and cheap food and cheap drink and cheap perfume, that the colored men who sing in the dim light are not musicians, and the men who toil in the kitchen are not cooks means nothing—until someone has to pay the bill.

If decent men, in search of decent wives, would do a little advertising, would let it be known, the girls wouldn't have to worry. There would be whole groups of men, in every social circle, ready to convince fine girls that they are not obliged to change their ideals to find their rightful places and their rightful mates.

LITTLE LIGHTS ON LIVING

By MAJIA LEONARD
Dean of Women, University of Illinois
© Western Newspaper Union

RESPECT FOR LAW

ALL creation is an expression of law, from the suns and stars of the universe to man. Man, the highest creature, has the least respect for law of any living thing, for nature itself is law abiding. In plant life the great trees to the smallest flowers grow by law, and in the lower animals, we find them guided through their generations by instinct. Because man has the greatest authority of all created beings, he also has the greatest responsibility. This he has not taken too seriously, for man is erratic. The greatest freedom on earth has the man who is most law abiding, for freedom is not license; it is law on its highest level.

If man be law abiding spiritually his faith frees him from worry. If he be law abiding mentally his attitude is one of tolerance, justice and open mindedness. If he be law abiding morally he respects his own body for its highest creative function, that of life giving—not life squandering. If he be law abiding physically he thinks and acts in positive health terms daily, to the point of sacrificing pleasure for health. If youth could learn that freedom is not license but the conforming to law whereby he may climb to steeper heights and fuller experiences of life, fewer wild things would cramp his body and soul with disease and disaster.

Self-realization, not self-expression, the world needs. Madame Roydon said we cannot break a natural law, for such laws as that of gravity and of growth cannot be broken. But, continues the wise teacher, we can break ourselves against these laws. Youth is taught to respect fire, why? Because familiarity with fire is consequential. He should be taught to respect law for the same reason. Life is built by law, not luck.

Parents do wrong to frighten children by threats of the policeman. He is not to be feared but revered, for he protects people who do right. Children should be taught to reverence certain fundamentals for right living, such as "the inflexible honesty" of George Washington. The man who respects these is protected by the law. Stop and go lights are a protective not a prohibitive measure. Children can be trained by parents in creating an attitude of respect for law which will develop as the years pass and responsibilities grow heavier. Life is built by law, not luck, and freedom comes this way.

If you are having Poultry Troubles in any way bring them to me. I can be of help to you.

Strength During MIDDLE LIFE

Strength is extra-important for women going through the change of life. Then the body needs the very best nourishment to fortify it against the changes that are taking place. In such cases, Cardui has proved helpful to many women. It increases the appetite and aids digestion, favoring more complete transformation of food into living tissue, resulting in improved nutrition and building up and strengthening of the whole system.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Woman's Missionary Society met in general assembly Monday afternoon in the First Baptist Church for a Mission Program in Royal Service. An inspirational devotional was given by Mrs. W. T. Shepherd. The study, Christmas Offering in Kingdom Building, was directed by Mrs. V. W. Day. Others having parts on the program were Mrs. J. C. Harvey, Mrs. M. P. May, Mrs. Tom Shelburne, Mrs. J. A. Roberts and Mrs. E. F. Fairley.

Beginning Monday, November 30, the World Mission Week of Prayer will be observed each afternoon of the week at 2:30 o'clock in the church.

THREE ARE HOSTES

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church was entertained in the home of Mrs. H. L. McBride, Monday afternoon, with Mrs. McGuire and Mrs. Turner Bynum assistant hostesses. The World Outlook program was given under the direction of Mrs. Gordon Bennett. She was assisted by Mrs. R. W. Jones, Mrs. Paul Fraser, and Mrs. Ray Willingham. The devotional was given by Mrs. Bill Rountree. A short business meeting was held, with Mrs. Teague presiding. Awards of attendance were presented Mrs. Teague, Mrs. Sauls, Mrs. Fraser, Mrs. Longino and Miss Lulan Vaughan.

A dessert plate was served by the hostess to those named and Mrs. J. E. Moody, Mrs. Ida Simkins, Mrs. E. Hanks, wife of the new pastor, Mrs. Mrs. D. Campbell, Mrs. Ed Bailey, Mrs. V. A. Galloway, Mrs. M. T. Hudson, and Mrs. Otis Hopper.

Announcing THE FORD V-8 FOR 1937

The Quality Car in the Low-price Field

V-8

85 HORSEPOWER

Maximum Performance with Good Economy

Bore, 3.062 in. Stroke, 3.75 in.
Displacement, 221 cu. in.

Two Engine Sizes - One Wheelbase

AND A NEW LOW PRICE

V-8

60 HORSEPOWER

Good Performance with Maximum Economy

Bore, 2.6 in. Stroke, 3.2 in.
Displacement, 136 cu. in.

THE New Ford V-8 for 1937 is the most beautiful Ford car ever offered. It is built in only one size—one standard of roomy comfort and modern appearance. But you may have either the improved 85-horsepower V-8 engine for maximum performance—or the new 60-horsepower V-8 engine for maximum economy. The smaller engine makes possible a lighter car—lower operating costs—and a lower price.

When you drive the 1937 Ford with the 85-horsepower V-8 engine, you are master of a power plant that gives everything you can possibly demand in speed and acceleration. Today, improved carburetion enables it to deliver its thrilling performance with unusually low gasoline consumption.

The new 60-horsepower V-type 8-cylinder engine delivers V-8 smoothness and quietness—even at speeds up to 70 miles an hour—with gasoline mileage so high that it creates an entirely new standard of economy in modern motor car operation.

We invite you to see this new Ford car, and arrange to drive one equipped with the engine that fits your needs.

AUTHORIZED FORD FINANCE PLANS
$25 a month, after usual down-payment, buys any model 1937 Ford V-8 Car—from any Ford dealer—anywhere in the United States. Ask your Ford dealer about the easy payment plans of the Universal Credit Company.

FEATURES

APPEARANCE—A newly designed car. Head-lamps recessed in fender aprons. Modern hood hinged at the back. Larger luggage space. Spare tire enclosed within body. Completely new interiors. Slanting V-type windshield opens in all closed cars.

COMFORT AND QUIET—A big, roomy car. Extra space is in the body, not taken up by the engine under the hood. Comfort of the Center-Poise Ride further increased by smoother action of the long-tapering springs, with new pressure lubrication. New methods of mounting body and engine make this a quieter car.

SAFETY

BRAKES—New Easy-Action Safety Brakes, of the cable and conduit control type. "The safety of steel from pedal to wheel." Self-energizing—car momentum is used to help apply the brakes. Tests show that about one-third less pedal pressure is required to stop the car.

BODY—Not an ounce of wood used for structural strength. Frame structure all steel, sheathed with steel panels—top, sides and floor. All are welded into a single steel unit of great strength. Safety Glass all around at no extra charge.
